Mission and Vision

Creating opportunities for students' academic, social-emotional, and Jewish success.

Seeking reintegration for all Jewish students with emotional or behavioral disabilities.

What is the JCFS Yeshiva?

The JCFS Yeshiva, a Jewish therapeutic school program founded in 1991, creates opportunities for students' academic, social-emotional, and Jewish success, and seeks reintegration for all Jewish students with emotional or behavioral disabilities. The Yeshiva is housed at Joy Faith Knapp Children's Center at 3145 W. Pratt Blvd, Chicago. It is directed by Rabbi David M. Rosenberg.

As part of the JCFS Therapeutic Day School (TDS), the JCFS Yeshiva is accredited by AdvancED. It is supported by the Kehillah Jewish Education Fund and by the Jewish Day School Guaranty Trust Fund in partnership with the Jewish United Fund/Jewish Federation. The JCFS Yeshiva works closely with students' families and with Associated Talmud Torahs, REACH, day school principals and professionals, and others.

JCFS Yeshiva faculty members are on the staff of TDS. The Yeshiva is located within TDS and benefits from the professional talents of the TDS staff and from the Knapp Center's various amenities. JCFS Yeshiva students participate in self-contained classes.

Tell us about your students

The JCFS Yeshiva serves children from traditionally observant Jewish homes with a range of emotional special education classifications, including: Emotional Disability, Learning Disability, and ADHD-type problems.

The JCFS Yeshiva can accommodate students in grades 2-6 (boys and girls) and 8-12 (boys only), based on date of birth. Students have previously attended Akiba Schechter JDS, Arie Crown, Cheder Lubavitch, Hillel Torah, Yeshiva Ohr Boruch, and Yeshivas Tiferes Tzvi. Each of the two Yeshiva classrooms can accommodate 8 students.

Students have reintegrated from the JCFS Yeshiva to Arie Crown, Cheder Lubavitch, Fasman Yeshiva High School, Ida Crown Jewish Academy, and Yeshiva of

Tell us about your services

The Yeshiva combines the therapeutic services and general studies curriculum of TDS with Jewish studies and tefillah in two self-contained classes and a Beit Midrash. The general studies curriculum is based on Illinois State Board of Education requirements.

Each student's education program sets forth his unique educational goals. Progress is evaluated regularly. To assist students, the following services are provided as indicated: social work services; speech-language therapy and occupational therapy; physical education in the Knapp Center gym; art; library/resource department; a life-skills room; Transition and Vocational services; support for reintegration to mainstream Jewish schools. Our therapeutic team approach brings together staff, family, outside providers and educators, and the student. Faculty communicates regularly with families.

Tell us about your staff

JCFS Yeshiva staff includes two special education teachers and two rabbis. TDS staff includes: Clinicians; Occupational and Speech Therapists; Resource Department; Reintegration Coordinator; Transition Coordinator; JVS Vocational Counselor; Art Director; Deans and Support Team; and School Nurse.

What is the Partnership Program?

Partnership students start the school day at their Jewish day school (generally for Jewish studies) and complete the day at the JCFS Yeshiva where they participate in general studies and receives other therapeutic services. A partnership arrangement may ease a student's full return to his day school.
